EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Harris Zimmerman on 18 August 2005.

The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 28, line 9, please replace "whereby" with --wherein--.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-43 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: independent claims 1 and 40 recite the limitations "the user assigning at least one onscreen element to a respective assignable specifier", "selecting said respective assignable specifier as a line style", and "drawing a line onscreen in said line style to call forth said assignable specifier". These limitations were not described in the cited prior art, nor were they found in the examiner's search of patent documents and publications. The previously cited prior art dealing with Microsoft Paint relates to specifying a color for an onscreen element and line style. The previously cited prior art not made of record relates to gesture recognition, but fails to explicitly teach assigning elements to assignable specifiers, selecting the assignable specifiers as a line style, or drawing a line onscreen in the line style to all forth the assignable specifier.

With respect to independent claims 28 and 33, the amendment to the claims filed 6 June 2005 has been deemed to sufficiently overcome the rejection of record. As noted in applicant's arguments, the previously cited prior art dealing with Microsoft Paint fails to teach a functional or representational onscreen element, instead allowing for the drawing of a graphical element for the sole purpose of display to the user. A prior art search conducted 15 August 2005 yielded no documents teaching the limitations of claims 28 and 33.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
